CAFE Membership Application

CAFE is a professional association dedicated to the promotion and development of freelance editors in the Calgary area. To be considered a freelance editor, you must derive at least some of your annual income from freelance editing, have a trade name, a Business Number with the government of Canada (which generates a GST number), and/or have business stationery (cards and letterhead).

We understand that those new members just starting out in this fascinating field may not, as yet, be deriving income from editing contracts. That's okay; bring your enthusiasm, learning, and desire to promote yourself as an entrepreneur and the organization as a professional network. We'll provide the venue and opportunities for you to share your coming success.
